UNITED NATIONS TRUCE SUPERVISION ORGANIZATION (U N T S O)

Deputy Chief of Staff (DCOS) Recommended Reading List for Military Experts on Mission (MeM) - 2020

Set up in May 1948, UNTSO was the first ever peacekeeping operation established by the United Nations. Since then, UNTSO military observers (Military Experts on Mission) have remained in the Middle East to monitor ceasefires, supervise armistice agreements, prevent isolated incidents from escalating and assist other UN peacekeeping operations in the region to fulfil their respective mandates.

DCOS UNTSO Intent

The PURPOSE is three-fold.

- 1 - to share useful books I have read in pre-deployment preparation, and while serving.
- 2 - to encourage the UNTSO Military Pillar to take advantage of professional development (PD) opportunities to increase knowledge, improve understanding and expand potential.
- 3 - to inculcate two-way and continuous learning. This list is incomplete. What beneficial (English language) books (ideally audio books) are not listed here and ought to be?

The ENDSTATE is achieved when a PD culture is established within UNTSO. Defined as follows;

- 1 - These books are being consumed by those serving and this list is expanding.
- 2 - Senior National Representatives of the 26 UNTSO Troop Contributing Countries see merit in circulating this list to their home nations as pre-deployment PD material of utility for those military officers who, in time, will succeed us in UNTSO.
